

MISSIONARY TYLER YATES

SERVING IN THE

yucatan

P E N I N S U L A

You may ask, "Why are you telling us the tragedy that ensued in your life and that of your church?" I say it to say that there is no tragedy with God. Tragedy is implying that there is not hope in a horrible situation. However, the Christian always has hope; his hope is Christ. There are no tragedies with God, only opportunities. I am beginning to learn that being in the ministry is harder than you think. I used to watch it at a distance, but now I am beginning to live it. Though trials may come, and the weight seems to heavy to bear, I will not quit, because I know my Lord is always there. He is good in the good times, and He is good in the bad times. We can so easily forget the great things He's done when we focus on the hardship in our life. Nahum 1:7 says, "The LORD is good..." and that is never become more apparent to me than now.

PRAYER REQUEST:

- For God to continue opening doors to visit with churches
- For the insurance situation to be settled from the accident
- For provision to go to the Yucatan in December to a few medical brigades we are having, and for people to be ready to hear the Gospel
- For my pastor's son Diego who is recovering from the accident
- For my pastor's nephew Nahum who is recovering from the accident

Your Missionary to the Yucatan Peninsula,
Tyler Yates

2 Corinthians 4:7-10

Email: davidtyleryates@gmail.com

Phone: 817-443-5217

John 3:16

