Serving the Lord in

Caxias do Sul, Southern Brazil

November 30, 2018

Dear friends,

The month of November started off with a fierce tempest, leaving us without lights for three days. In the spirit of thanksgiving, we are very thankful for electricity. We praise the Lord and are thankful for the freedom to hand out tracks and to legally put them in mail boxes. Both of us spent a day sick in bed this month, but the blessing was we didn't miss any church.

The two church works have seen a few recent blessings. At Victory Baptist Church, Elisabete and her great niece Isabele have faithfully joined us in attendance. Also, Neila now has two young music students who have a desire to one day soon start playing the keyboard for the services!

At the Independent Baptist Church across town we have two reasons for celebrating. The first was a profession of faith made by Leonardo. He would appreciate your prayers since he has been involved in criminal activity and is having a hard time with drug addiction. The second is a family of four that has begun participating. Jonir and Crislaine, along with their children, Eduardo (8) and Emily (5), live four blocks away in the same neighborhood where Jonir grew up. We are excited about making visits with them in the near future. Jonir and family were once a part of a Bible Church where he had some ministerial training.

Brothers on Children's Day

The young adult's get together at the end of September went well with five present. Our Children's Day activity in October brought several visitors with fourteen children and eleven adults. The ladies' meeting this month was attended by sixteen ladies and teens. They made snow globes, heard the gospel, and were encouraged to grow spiritually. The men's meeting was a good time of getting to know Jonir.

Neila hosted five of our youth girls for a slumber party where they made oatmeal chocolate chip cookies. They are quiet girls who were receptive to Neila's Biblical counsel.

We can see the Lord working on the heart of Neila's English student Barbara. She shared back with Neila the verses she gave Barbara about faith. Barbara is of spiritist belief, so we ask for prayers on her behalf as she allows God's Word to bring the result of a spiritual conversion.
